

Are you willing to explore the world of global business? Do you want to put yourself in the position of a company manager?
Do you like fierce challenge and seeking for excellence ?

Stockholm School of Economics in Riga proudly presents:
Peak Time 2010 : "Green development"

Peak Time is an international business student competition for undergraduates all over the world. Last year Peak Time brought together participants from 50 countries, including the USA, the Netherlands, Singapore, the UK, China, Australia and many others. The structure is very simple:

1. Gather a team of 4 motivated undergraduate students
2. Participate in preliminary rounds online, which consist of a business simulation CESIM and case studies that allow you to solve real-life business problems.
3. Be among the top 20 teams and win a possibility to come to Riga, Latvia to participate in the finals of Peak Time (28th April -1st May). The finals in Riga are all about four days of meeting new people, listening to world-famous guest lecturers, competing with the best students from all over the world in CESIM and case studies and participating in social events.
4. WIN recognition, trophy and monetary prizes.

Our mission is to challenge everyone: participants, universities, sponsors and ourselves. You won't regret it! Just form a team of four undergraduate students who are ready for the Peak Time, prove yourself and your university's worth in global arena and register by the 9th of February.

More info and registration at www.peaktime.org!

Best regards,
The Peak Time Organizing Team

